

Schedule

the timetable for the next days

July 9, 2003 // Contest day 2

	Contestants	Leaders and Guests
7:30	Breakfast JGH
9:00	2nd Contest Session Paulinum	Translation of Questions Paulinum / JGH?
12:30		Lunch JGH
14:30	Lunch JGH
15:30	Recreation
18:00	Dinner JGH
19:00		5th GA meeting Conclusion of 2nd Contest Session
20:00	Culture and Disco Night	VIP Dinner Kleiner Kiepenkerl

July 10, 2003 // Excursion Day 2

	Contestants	Leaders and Guests
7:30	Breakfast JGH
8:30	Departure
11:00	Guided Tour Landschaftspark Duisburg-Nord: „Structural Change“
13:00	Departure
14:00	City Sightseeing Cologne Strolling and Shopping / Visit to the Cathedral
17:00	Departure
18:00	Dinner Schloss-Destille Zons
20:00	Departure

Fun

the one and only Garfield

Welcome contestants!

Back to your work, ladies and gentlemen

After enjoying the beautiful countryside of Westphalia and having a nice time in the swimming pool of Sudmühle it is now time to "ride your horses" again. The next part of the contest is scheduled for today, so get up and get your points!

To give you something to read while relaxing after the contest, we have again a broad bandwidth of reports, beginning with yesterday's visit of Castle Hülshoff and the leisure time, we bring you a sneak preview about what comes up on the next excursion. Just for you.

Hülshoff Castle

Home of Westphalia's most famous poet

Yesterday, the contestants visited Hülshoff Castle. It is surely not the most impressive building in Westphalia, but it definitely is one of the most poetic ones. Encouraged by her father and her mother, the first one a science-loving man, the second one a literature-loving woman, Annette v. Droste-Hülshoff wrote her first poems while she was spending her youth in the family castle.

The castle itself is a lovely place, featuring a park, where visitors can enjoy the wonderful nature and the nice work of the gardeners which keep the historical outlook of the whole exterior of the castle. The castle itself is open to visitors as an Annette v. Droste-Hülshoff museum. The interested visitor has therefore the opportunity to experience the environment in which the poet had lived in her youth.

Second Contest day

One more session to go

Today is the second contest session. Again, the contestants will do their best while solving problems stressed in the tasks. The session begins at 9 am in the Paulinum grammar school, in the exact same room where they had their practice contest and their first session. After the session, warm food awaits the contestants at the hostel, refilling their energy resources. Then, after dinner, a culture and disco night for the contestants, and a VIP dinner for the leaders and guests is scheduled.

Night Fever

Culture and disco night

Tonight, the contestants will experience the night life of Münster. Since the contest is in a city known for its students, it would be appropriate to show what the students do in Münster - besides learning, of course. On every Wednesday night, discos and bars offer special prices for students. The Organization Committee took this opportunity to let the contestants relax after the exhausting contest session. So there is a visit in the local "Bananenreiferei" planned.

The leaders and guests on the other side will have VIP a dinner at the "Kleiner Kiepenkerl", a genuine restaurant offering Westphalian specialties.

The "Bananenreiferei" is a club which is located in a former train-depot where once fruits had been stored. The club is frequent visited by many young people, living in Münster and in the surroundings of the city. It has capacity for about 300 visitors and features mainstream music. If you're interested in taking a preview look, check www.bananenreiferei.com.

The Bananenreiferei

>> If you're out in the city on your own, you can ask your guides for nice locations to go.

Participants

Portraits of the teams

From left to right: Thomas Fersch, Tobias Müller, Matthias Nieverth, Hans-Christian Ebke, Marco Thomas, Melanie Schmidt, Klaus Dingemann (missing), Heinrich-Gregor Zirnstein (missing)

Newsmag: Were your expectations met so far?

Team (GER): More than that. We're very satisfied with the common atmosphere.

N: Do you think you will win the contest?

Team: Since our country is the host country, we're gonna let the others win :)

N: Is this the first time for you at a CEOI?

Team: For three of us not.

N: How were the tasks?

Team: They were interesting.

N: Do you have a statement you want to see in the newsletter?

Team: Zicke Zacke Zicke Zacke Hoi Hoi Hoi!

Newsmag: Were your expectations met so far?

Team (WTF): They were met, rather exceeded.

N: Do you think you will win the contest?

Team: It is everything to be here, not to win...

N: Is this the first time for you at a CEOI?

Team: Except for Melanie, yes.

N: How were the tasks?

Team: The Westphalian translation was missing.

:) They were fair.

N: Do you have a statement you want to see in the newsletter?

Team: Win all the best possible alternatives! / Hey we're so tired!

09.07.2003 / Wednesday	10.07.2003 / Thursday	Quote of the day
 Temperature: 14°C to 21°C Wind: 17 km/h, NW	 Temperature: 10°C to 23°C Wind: 9 km/h, NW	Jij bent een prullenbak! (you are a garbage bin) was said to kim the dutch team leader by hans-christian ebke.